

ForeverLearning AI launches Conversations

A lower-stakes place to practice higher-stakes conversations.

Practice before the stakes are real

Some conversations affect work, family, relationships, sexuality, trust, and belonging. Conversations gives people a private, lower-stakes place to say the words out loud, experience how others may respond, and try again. Practice can make a difficult conversation feel less frightening and give someone more ways to begin.

Explore the public catalogue

Practice inside a live room

The room is the product

People hold their ground

Distinct AI people keep their own positions, each with a voice and sixteen expressions, while reacting to one another.

The room keeps context

A governed speaking order, unresolved threads, and room state stay coherent as the exchange develops and recovers.

Feedback stays connected

Coach, debrief, and Insights connect specific feedback to moments and patterns in practice. There is no single score. The system does not infer personality or emotion.

Conversations at a glance

SITUATIONS

Work, relationships, family, care, social life, collaboration, and community. 76 rooms plus open practice.

PEOPLE

Managers, peers, partners, parents, friends, doctors, and neighbors. 50 AI people; up to five in a room.

PRACTICE

Hands-free, push-to-talk voice, and text

ACCESS

Browse and set up every room publicly. Membership opens live practice.

Membership is $19 a month. Founding access is $50 for the first three months, then $16.65 a month while continuously active. Both include a 30-day money-back guarantee. Available in the United States and Canada; prices are in US dollars.

“The conversation someone needs to have still belongs to them. Our job is to give them a place to practice, see what happened, and return with more options.”

Terry Boyle, founder and CEO, ForeverLearning AI